18-day Fly/Cruise-Tour aboard Marco Polo, including a BONUS London City Sightseeing Tour!

Our cruise to the legendary 'Land of Ice and Fire' and the rarely visited Northern Isles is a unique voyage of discovery traversing the Arctic Circle and circumnavigating Iceland, a remote island of vast ice caps, geothermal pools and bubbling hot springs, steaming geysers, lava fields and active volcanoes. Spectacular scenery, diverse natural wonders and abundant wildlife combine to make this wonderful cruising holiday a memorable experience to savour visiting four enthralling Icelandic ports of call.

First stop is a full day in Kirkwall in the Orkney Islands and home to the ancient Stone Age village of Skara Brae and the famous British naval base at Seapa Flow. Marco Polo then heads northbound enroute to the island of Heimaey in the Westmann Islands, scene of an immense volcanic eruption in 1973 followed by an evening circumnavigation of Surtsey named after the 'giant of fire' in Icelandic mythology. An extended full day visit to Reykjavik, the world's northernmost capital affords the chance to visit the amazing Blue Lagoon and the stunning Gullfoss Falls. Next stop is Grundarfjordur in the Snaefellsjokull Peninsula. It is no wonder that its eerie volcanic terrain inspired Jules Verne to write 'Journey to the Centre of the Earth'. Akureyri is our final Icelandic stop situated at the head of the country's longest fjord and a snowball's throw from the 'Waterfall of the Gods' at Godafoss and the Botanical Gardens. Marco Polo's homeward leg of the cruise also provides rare opportunities for full day visits to Torshavn in the Faroe Islands and then Lerwick in the Shetland Islands, both with striking Norse influences, enroute back to Tilbury.
